We exercise extreme care when processing your household and specialty items. However we are not responsible for materials which cannot withstand the recommended care procedures. High risk cleaning will not be done unless specifically authorized by the customer. Some, but not all problems in processing include unidentified materials, synthetic fibers, poor or missing care instructions, shrinkage, sunlight damage, water damage, discoloration, fading, deterioration from fume fade, age, humidity, or acidity. All these things affect the outcome of our efforts and many times unknown in advance. Such processing will be done at customers own risk.
